The Daily Courant.

Monday, May 24. 1714.

London, May 24.
On Saturday arrived the Mail due from Holland.

Hague, May 29.
An Extract from the Register of the Resolutions of the High and Mighty Lords the States-General of the United Netherlands, May 17.

" M. Van Welden and other their High Mightynesses Deputies for foreign Affairs, having pursuant to, and in Performance of their Commission of the 15th Instant had a Conference with the Earl of Strafford, on the Subject of the Barrier of this State in the Spanish Netherlands, made Report to the Assembly, " That the Conference being opened by acquainting the said Earl of Strafford with what had passed on the said Subject in a Conference with Baron Heems, consisting principally in this, " that the Emperour was disposed and ready to treat with their High Mightynesses concerning a Barrier; that the said Treaty might be prepared and brought to some Maturity here, in order to be finally perfected and concluded in some other Place to be chosen for that purpose; but that the Emperour would be glad to have this done at Vienna; to which End they the said Deputies were desired, so to order things with their High Mightynesses, that a Minister might be nominated, the sooner the better, as also that Ostend may not be alienated from the Spanish Netherlands.

" The said Earl of Strafford thanked them the Deputies for thus communicating what had passed; but at the same time, expressed his Surprise at the aforementioned Propositions; adding, " that he was obliged to inform them the Deputies, " that their High Mightynesses were Guarantees of the Succession in the Protestant Line, as well as the Queen was Guarantee of the Barrier in the Spanish Netherlands for the State, and that the said Succession would stand good and have Effect, as it should come in Order, but that her Majesty would never suffer any Laws to be prescribed or imposed upon her on that Account. " That her Majesty, as well as the State, was interested in the Affair of the Barrier, and therefore no Step ought to be taken in it without acting therein in Concert with her Majesty: " That he the Earl of Strafford, had Order to declare, in the Name of the Queen his Mistress, " that the treating and concluding on the Barrier at Vienna, seemed to be proposed with Intention only to exclude her Majesty from the Negotiations about it: That in such a Case, her Majesty would forthwith renounce all Engagements with this State, for that her Majesty absolutely insisted upon sending a Minister likewise thither, for the Reasons beforementioned. That her Majesty had sent to the King of France, for an Explanation touching the Exchanging of some Places in the Spanish Netherlands according to the Treaty of Raad, and had received for Answer that the King of France will not concern himself therein. That as to what Baron Heems had mentioned in relation to Ostend, he the Earl of Strafford declared he was content therewith. Lastly, that the said Earl of Strafford earnestly desired, that their High Mightynesses will not send to Vienna, and so not do any thing in this Negotiation but in Concert with her Majesty; as also that they will not let any further Conference be held with the said Baron Heems without his Knowledge and Participation; adding once more, that pursuant " to his Orders he must declare, that her Majesty would look upon such a Proceeding as a formed Design of their High Mightynesses to dissolve all Engagements now subsisting between her Majesty and the State; desiring the said Deputies to communicate what he had said to their High Mightynesses.

Hague, May 29. The Negotiation of Peace between Spain and Portugal still sticks at the Restoration (or Reimbursement) which the Spanish Ministers demand, of the Ships which the Portuguese took from the Spaniards before they declared War, and in which Ships (say those Ministers) the English and Dutch are considerably interested.

" Tis no longer doubted that the Peace between Spain and this State will now be negotiated in France, seeing their High Mightynesses have actually sent Full Powers to M. Buys and Gollinga their Ambassadors at the Court of France, in order to their concluding the Peace there.

" The Remonstrances which the Earl of Strafford has made touching the Barrier to be settled in the Spanish Netherlands between his Imperial Majesty and the States General, are supposed to be the Cause of which Negotiation's being at a stand for the present.

" Mr. Harley set out from hence last Friday for Rotterdam, with Design to embark there for England.

" Letters from Berlin of the 22d of May advise, that Baron Sparte and the Count de Rorenbourg have made further and more advantagious Propositions, but 'twas not believed his Prussian Majesty would hearken to them, appearing resolved not to concern himself in the Affairs of the North, otherwise than by good Offices. 'Twas rumoured, that the said Propositions import, " That his Majesty the King of Poland having declared himself pretty favourably in case the King of Prussia will concur with him, 'tis proposed to his Prussian Majesty to cause 30000 Men to march and act in favour of Sweden; in Consideration of which, the King of France will pay such Subsidies as his Prussian Majesty can reasonably ask. And the better to engage the Court of Berlin, the said Ministers were reported to have assured them, " that France and a maritime Potentate will second all they can by Sea his Prussian Majesty's Enterprizes; and that the King of Poland, the Landgrave of Hesse-Cassel, and the Duke of Holstein, will assist him powerfully by Land; that in Recompence for this Service Sweden will yield to his Prussian Majesty Stettin with its Dependences as far as the River Peen, of which Cession France and a maritime Potentate will be Guarantees.

" M. Gerdsdorff, Envoy extraordinary of the King of Poland, has notified to the States General, by Order from his Court, that Peace is concluded and signed between the Ottoman Porte and Poland.
